

Brown Receives Women of Courage Award

Waldorf, Md. — Soror Jeanette Littleton Brown of Nu Zeta Omega Chapter was recently honored at the National Federation of Black Women Business Owners third annual Black Women of Courage awards ceremony. The luncheon event was held at the Capitol Hyatt Hotel in Washington, D.C. The guest speaker was First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton.

Soror Brown was selected for the highly prestigious Senior Executive Service (SES) of the United States of America as deputy director for the Office of Acquisition Management for the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Out of a workforce of over 17,000 employees, Soror Brown is one of only two, career African-American female SES members at the EPA.

Soror Jeanette Littleton Brown honored by the National Federation of Black Women Business Owners.

Previously, Soror Brown served as director of the Office of Procurement and Grants Management for the U.S. Small Business Administration. She was the first minority and female to hold this position. She also served as the director for the Minority Small Business Capital Ownership Development program.
